

Peter Boglioli Seminar:
Building a Solid Foundation between Horse and Rider from the Ground Up

Bow Brickhill Stable is offering a 5 week seminar with Peter Boglioli. The class will be limited to 6 participants with horses and will be open to auditors. We will offer two classes one meeting on Friday evenings from 7-9 and another on Sunday mornings from 10-12. Both classes will run concurrently however, participants will need to choose at registration which class they will enroll in, Friday or Sunday. Participants may swap classes but that will need to be arranged between participants.

The seminar is open to horses and riders of all ages, levels and disciplines.

Day 1:

- Introduction of the Rope Halter and why it is an effective training tool.
- We will explore the relationship between feel and response between horse and rider.
- Introduction to the purpose of “untracking” the hind quarters of your horse.

Day 2:

- Introduction of lateral and longitudinal flexion.
- Introduce function and principal of the Round-pen.

Day 3:

- Purpose of switching eyes on your horse
- Back horse in quarter, half and full circles.

Day 4:

- Use halter roper to find problem areas that you can work on from the ground; spookiness, feet handling, head shy, etc.
- Introduce use and purpose of the flag as a training tool.

Day 5:

- Application of the principle of the rope halter in everyday situations through the use of obstacles such as, tarps, cross rails, rails, etc.
- Optional: Ride horse with rope halter.
